

We are here to:
Promote you!
Represent You!
Protect You!

Building North Central Washington is a non-profit trade association dedicated to promoting and protecting small businesses and the building industry, preserving the growth of the local economy, and overall quality of life in North Central Washington.

What does BNCW Do?

We are a member-driven, business organization that serves as an aggressive advocate for our community and our members, working to support the values and principles of businesses. BNCW utilizes a grassroots approach to educate local elected officials and agency staff on important issues that impact those we represent. We're actively involved in local policy making, ensuring that our members' collective voice and interests are heard, loud and clear. BNCW works diligently to address the over-regulation of businesses, while passionately defending against the rising tide of land-use regulations that are eroding citizens' private property rights. We're equally passionate about marketing and referring our member companies to the public, while promoting events and networking opportunities that help provide our members with a distinct, competitive edge.

Why Join BNCW?

Membership with BNCW is a smart business decision, regardless if your business is tied directly to the building industry, or not. Your membership investment will pay dividends. BNCW has the knowledge, expertise and commitment to achieve meaningful results for our members throughout North Central Washington. Are you frustrated and fed-up with having your hard work jeopardized by the growing assault on businesses? Do you feel like there's nothing you can do to stop it? If you answered yes, JOIN NOW! Your membership investment will pay dividends. BNCW has the knowledge, expertise and commitment to achieve meaningful results for our members throughout North Central Washington.

When you become a member of Building North Central Washington, we make a commitment to you to do our best to promote you, represent you, but most importantly, PROTECT you.

What are BNCW's Guiding Principles?

We Believe:

- Building and Development drive economic vitality
- Small business and free enterprise contribute to a resilient and sustainable economy
- Government should respect private property rights and be limited in scope
- Agencies and lawmakers should be accountable to the people they serve, and the policies they create should be fair, consistent and predictable
- We are stronger together, thus we actively seek opportunities to partner to address issues with broad impact

We recognize and respect our role as a resource in the larger community, but that role must not overshadow our primary charge to serve our member and community needs.

Mission Statement:

BNCW promotes and protects the North Central Washington building industry for the preservation and growth of the local economy, small business and quality of life.

Vision Statement:

BNCW envisions a community where people want to live and small businesses thrive.

Values Statement – The following values guide BNCW’s behavior in all that we do:

Dedication
Accountability
Courage

Advocacy
Value
Knowledge

Professionalism
Proactive
Voice
